LEED Certification Training

Normally in November Lorne Mlotek returns to Sacramento to teach sustainable LEED workshops, however this semester he will be hosting identical workshops completely online. The exam can now be taken online too!. The LEED Professional Designation has helped past participants attain internships, jobs and advanced their careers in multiple fields and now is a great time to add this credential.

LEED is simply a sustainability scorecard for green buildings. Buildings can become LEED Certified as can people! The best way to break into the sustainability space is to attain the LEED Green Associate. It also shows employers and clients you have certified knowledge in the field. Since the LEED GA exam doesn't have a stellar pass rate, the value of the extra letters behind your name will carry even more weight.

Lorne's workshops have helped nearly 10K students and professionals learn the material cold (important for interview prep) AND clear the exam with a very high passing rate.

UC Davis Beyond the Barriers

The Beyond the Barriers initiative seeks to address the impacts of the carceral system on our campus community.

An uncounted number of UC Davis students, staff, and faculty have been impacted by the carceral system, meaning they or an immediate family member have been incarcerated or detained. The financial and social challenges of being system-impacted are substantial, and yet have been largely invisible.

Last spring, UC Davis committed to addressing the deeply rooted structural inequities and injustices that impact our nation and our campus. By offering a support structure and community for our system-impacted students, and fostering student and faculty research, Beyond the Barriers takes up this crucial challenge in the spirit of the University of California's values of research, teaching, and service.

Please take a moment to read this introduction, and view the website. Beyond the Barriers is planning an online event in December to celebrate the launch and gather with the community.
